WELCOME

A research recently published by the university of Cornell has proved that travelling makes you happier than being in possession of any tangible wealthness. As it has been suggested, so it turns out to be. This study has corroborated that fact but so do millions of people who undertake any type of trip, they feel happier and these experiences are everlastingly stored in memory.

I like travelling a lot too and whenever I have a chance, I try a short getaway. It is not about packing and moving within thousands of kilometres away from home. Sometimes, closer than we may think, the paradise of Jaen can be found, I can guarantee you so, there are plenty of charming and startling spots, both within the town itself and its surroundings.

Lately, Jaen has increased its number of visitors, therefore it is usual to bump into with groups of tourists coming from other regions of Spain or from other countries beholding the Cathedral, getting lost in the narrow and absorbing streets in the old quarters of the town or visiting the Castle of St. Catherine.

Jaen, apart from its culture, and it can certainly be proud of its Jewish, Muslims and Christians ancestors' heritage. It has another great value, very much praised by holiday-makers; gastronomy. Jaen is the world biggest olive oil exponent and locals put it plainly for everybody to see; with an exquisite cuisine which has a clear common denominator, its golden olive oil.

Therefore, Jaen has monuments, gastronomy and landscapes. Yes, indeed a natural environment which not all province capitals have the privilege of possessing. Jaen is an attractive place for adventure lovers, for instance climbing, but also trekking-seekers or cycling to have a great experience.

In a nutshell, Jaen and its natural environment has become the point of reference for thousands of tourists who visit the town every year and we are rather proud of these outcomes.

An achievement which has been reaped thanks to the endeavour and efforts carried out by the city council of Jaen and the reason why we strive ourselves to enhance these outcomes more and more. As the mayor of this great city, I feel enormously proud of these achievements in favour of tourism and the guidelines established to make Jaen a town which continues to attract tourists who end up feeling satisfied and fulfilled after their visit and experiences.

GEOGRAPHICAL LOCATION

There are several different entries to the city:

- From West: Cordoba Road, by A-316 or A-44 (Jaen West exit), which will take you rapidly to the Castle.
- From North: Madrid A-44 Road (exit Jaen North). It will take you to the centre of town where several parkings are available, such as Avenida, La Victoria or Constitución Square.
- From East and South: Granada A-44 Road (exit Jaen South). This will take you to Granada Avenue where you can take the Southern Bypass (Ronda Sur), which will take you to the city's monumental area, from where you can easily reach the Castle, too. If you drive into the city from this direction we recommend the San Francisco parking (it is the most central parking place), the Alcantarilla or the La Alameda parking places.

MONUMENTS

SANTA CATALINA CASTLE

The Castle of Santa Catalina was originally a 9th century Caliphal Islamic fortress. After the Christian conquest of the city by Fernando III in 1246, a new Christian castle was built. Visitors can enjoy a visit to the Castle Museum, which houses fascinating displays of its history. There is a fantastic view of the city and the surroundings from the Cross. A varied programme of summer activities are promoted by the local Tourism Councilor.

CATHEDRAL

The Cathedral was built between 16th and early 19th century to house the relic of the Holy Face. The Andres de Vandelvira's masterpiece can be seen inside. It has claimed to be one of the most outstanding Renaissance cathedrals in Andalusia because of the symmetry, harmony and proportions. A management plan was produced by a local coordinating Committee, twelve years ago, in order to achieve the World Heritage Site qualification by UNESCO.

Jaen's cathedral has recently been voted one of the most spectacular cathedrals in Spain by TripAdvisor.

MUSEUM OF JAEN

It is divided into two sections, one has been dedicated to Archaeology and provides visitors with a full review of different stages in history which range from the prehistory to the hispanomuslim period. As for the other section, it has been approached as a Fine Arts exhibition, with works belonging to leading and praiseworthy artists born in the province of Jaen such as Manuel A Ortiz or Rafael Zabaleta, coupled with this, there is an important collection of contemporary engraving pieces of work. Furthermore, along the year, countless temporary exhibitions are arranged.

St. Batolome Church

SAINT BARTOLOME PARISH CHURCH

This church is one of the oldest in the city, decorated in Mudejar style architecture. The most outstanding interior elements include: the 16th century main altarpiece by Sebastian de Solis; the baptismal font which is a gothic piece of art in glazed tiles, as well as the 17th century Expiracion Christ, attributed to José de Medina.

BUTCHER'S BUILDING AND CAÑOS FOUNTAIN

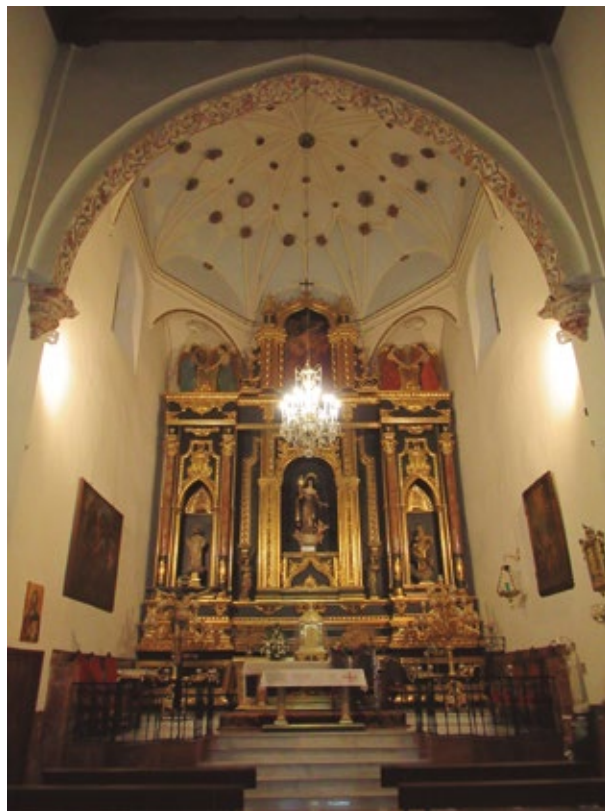

The building was built to house the city's public butchers in 1736. The façade includes a coat-of-arms and inscriptions. Opposite it is located the Caños Fountain designed by Francisco del Castillo in 1558 and rebuilt in 1648.

SAINT CLARA ROYAL MONASTERY

Founded by King Fernando III. The 16th century sculpture of Christ of Misericordias, known as the Christ of Bamboo, is venerated inside.

Los Caños Fountain

St. Clara Royal Monastery

SAINT ANDRÉS HOLY CHAPEL

A non-profit teaching institution founded by Gutierre Gonzalez Doncel in 1515. The Chapel of the Immaculate Conception and the beautiful gothic-mudejar dome that covers it, are outstanding. A magnificent 16th century polychrome iron-work grille by Master Bartolome closes it.

MAGDALENA FOUNTAIN

This is a legendary drinking water spring, which supplied a great part of the city from ancient times. This is where the famous "Lizard of Jaen" had its hideout.

MAGDALENA PARISH CHURCH

This is where the first Mosque stood during the Islamic period. It was converted into a Catholic church after the Christian conquest. It is home to pieces of great artistic value such as the Calvary by Jacobo Florentino, the "Indaco", the patio of the old mosque and the minaret are still preserved.

Magdalena Church

St. Catalina Royal Monastery

SAINT JUAN DE DIOS HOSPITAL

The Ancient Hospital of the Holy Mercy, was given up to Brothers of Saint Juan de Dios in 1619. It was a Charity Welfare Hospital until 1980. It now houses the Institute of Jaen Studies, Jaen Authors and Documental Centre of Jaen Subjects.

ROYAL MONASTERY OF SAINT CATHERINE MARTYR

It was founded on a muslim palace which King Juan I gave up to the Dominican monks in 1382. It was the home to the University of Santa Catherine Martyr in the 16th century. It nowadays houses the Archive of rare and historical manuscripts.

SAINT JUAN PARISH CHURCH

This medieval church is home to an outstanding 16th century Calvary sculptured by Sebastian de Solis and the 17th century sculpture of a Dolorosa by Luisa la Roldana. The bell tower sets the official time of the city.

St. Juan Church

MUNICIPAL PALACE OF CULTURE

The building occupies a great part of the ancient Miguel Lucas de Iranzo, Constable of Castile and his wife Teresa de Torres's Palace. A magnificent Mudejar style, a painted wooden ceiling and some remains of plaster decorations and some arches in the patio, all from the 15th century are still preserved.

OFFICIAL CONSERVATORY

It housed the Schools of the Company of Jesus (Jesuits) until the 17th century. It nowadays houses the Official Conservatoire.

SAINT LORENZO ARCH

It formed part of the old San Lorenzo parish church from the 14th century. Gothic-Mudejar style tiles and plasters are preserved inside.

MERCED SQUARE

The new Fountain, the Quesada-Ulloa Palace and the old Convent de la Merced, today a parish church form part of this charming Renaissance square.

CARMELITE MONASTERY

Founded in 1615, the monastery is home to the manuscript "Cantico Espiritual", by the Spanish poet San Juan de la Cruz. Other outstanding piece is the altarpiece with paintings by Sebastian Martinez and Ambrosio de Valois.

CONSUELO ARCH

A precious example of a typical niche situated in the most traditional tapas area of the city. A low relief frames a Virgen de la Amargura's canvas by the local artist Luis Cruz.

CAMARÍN DE JESÚS

The side-chapel and the church are the only elements remaining from the 16th century Saint Joseph's Carmelite Convent. The new restored building houses the famous Renaissance sculpture of Our Father Jesus (known as the Grandfather).

PROVINCIAL PALACE

A magnificent 19th century building by Jorge Porrua. Its central patio is of great interest, as well as the Hall of Sessions and the lower galleries.

SAINT ILDEFONSO MINOR BASILICA OF THE SACRED PARISH CHURCH

The most conspicuous external features are the three beautiful façades, an interesting mixture of architectural styles. Inside the Lady of la Capilla, patron saint, is worshiped.

BERNARDAS MONASTERY

The 16th century Monastery founded by Bishop Melchor de Soria y Vera, contains outstanding paintings of Angelo Nardi. Pay a visit to buy traditional cakes.

JAEN, THE WORLD OLIVE OIL CAPITAL

OLIVE OIL AND ITS BENEFITS TO HEALTH

Production of olive oil is for the city of Jaen and all its province the most important identity sign, having became famous all over the world. 77% of the province's lands are occupied by olive tree groves, that is, 60 million olive trees, which characterise its landscape: long files of green and silver borderline peaks and valleys creating an ecosystem in its own, which surprises all those who come to visit us.

Olive oil is a fountain of health and has therapeutic effects, which have been acknowledged by all experts. It contains a high quantity of oleic acid contributing to reduce levels of cholesterol. Anti-oxidation properties have been found thanks to compounds such as vitamin E and polyphenols, substances that help to slow up ageing processes. These antioxidants are responsible for the typical itching and bitterness of picual, the variety mainly grown in the province, considering those as positive organoleptic attributes along with its fruity characteristic aroma. Olive oil is better appreciated in the world of Cuisine, which deepens its roots in Mediterranean tradition. Crude olive oil communicates these qualities to food, so it is very suitable to dress salads, sauces, aliolis, vinaigrettes, cooked food, bread... Olive oil when used for frying, forms a crust to foods that prevents them from getting more oil and therefore they have fewer calories than fried with other oils, also preserves the nutritional properties of food. We finally highlight its resistance to the thermo oxidation due to the high content of natural antioxidants and oleic acid.

OLIVE OIL PRODUCTION

Olive oil begins its elaboration process with the olive tree. Harvest is at the beginning of autumn and it ends with the storage in the warehouse in february. Therefore, it is of the utmost importance to control all the phases in the process since the characteristics and qualities of the oil are conditioned and can be affected by each and every one of the phases. Nevertheless, the great care which the process is followed with during farming, harvesting, selection and packaging, has made Jaén's olive oil rise its fame; not only because of the enormous production but also because of the excellent quality of the final product.

This quality reaches its peak with the star amongst olive oils: the extra virgin olive oil. In the world of olive oil production there are different categories. Extra Virgin Olive Oil is held to be the best of them all because it faithfully reproduces the smell and the flavour of the olive. That does not mean that all olive oils in this range have the same characteristics since each olive oil will adopt the smell and flavour of the olive it comes from. This diversity of flavours delights a great number of consumers.

The most important trade market related to the olive oil world takes place in the city of Jaén, EXPOLIVA, every two years.

ENJOY THE FIESTA IN THE STREET. JOIN OUR TRADITIONS

FEASTS OF ANDALUSIA TOURISTIC INTEREST

JANUARY, 16TH. SAN ANTON FIRES. Monumental bonfires, which are lit in the squares of Jaen as a votive offering to the Patron Saint of Animals, Saint Anthony the Abbot. Folk songs, "Melenchones", are sung and danced. People eat roasted pumpkin, popcorn and other traditional products.

The International Urban Race also highlights the "Night of San Anton", which gathers 12.000 runners. Many touristic attractions are organized for that weekend.

March - April. Easter. It has been classed a Spanish Fiesta of National Tourist Interest. It goes on from Palm Sunday to Easter Sunday. The seventeen existing "penitent brotherhoods" march through the streets. The oldest dates from 1546. The town's streets are transformed into a scene of parades, specially great part of the Old City, where the official stops and other great moments of beauty and emotion take place. We must highlight the Good Friday's Eve with the popular brotherhood known as "Our Father Jesus the Nazarene", known as "El Abuelo".

OTHER FEASTS

FEBRUARY. Carnival: Parades, competitions and costume parties.

APRIL, LAST WEEKEND: Reception and farewell of pilgrims who leave towards the Cabezo Hill, in Andujar, to take part in the Our Lady of la Cabeza pilgrimage. An ancient and very popular pilgrimage parade takes place together with the "Colomera" brotherhood in the streets of Jaen.

MAY, 3rd. THE CROSS'DAY. Floral Crosses are built in patios and small squares. Unusual Children Processions take place too.

MAY, 2nd SUNDAY: "Christ of the Rice" Pilgrimage: It takes place in the area known as "Fuente de la Peña", in the city's outskirts. There are a Fiesta, a Pilgrimage and a Procession from and to a popular hermitage.

CORPUS CHRISTI. A solemn Eucharist Procession takes place from the Cathedral. The Holy Sacrament is taken in a silver carriage, exposed in a majestic monstrance, a replica of the one created by silversmith Juan Ruiz, "El Vandalino", in the 16th century.

JUNE, 11th. Fiesta of Our Lady of La Capilla, Patron Saint of Jaen. A procession, popular fiestas and a floral offering take place in San Ildefonso quarter during some days. There is a solemn mass attended by the City Councilors and the Cathedral Chapter in Saint Ildefonso church.

SEPTEMBER, 1st SUNDAY: Fiestas of the Divine Shepherdess in San Ildefonso suburb. Parades, religious fiesta and procession organized by a brotherhood of shepherds created in the 16th century take place that day. There is also a competition where men can prove their skills and dexterity with "flying of the flags".

SEPTEMBER, 3rd SUNDAY. The White Virgin Pilgrimage. A popular fiesta in the hermitage of La Imora, in the city's outskirts. It dates back to the 16th century.

OCTOBER, 18th FAIR OF SAN LUCAS. Bull fights. Typical barracks organized by clubs, brotherhoods, societies, etc. with a great atmosphere, are open to all visitors in the fair zone called "Alcalde Alfonso Sánchez". There are also bulls as well as cultural and sport events.

NOVEMBER, 25th SAINTCATALINA'S PILGRIMAGE. A popular climb to the Castle overlooking the city to celebrate the Santa Catalina's fiesta, the city's Patron Saint. A fiesta and a procession take place on the top of the mountain. Do not miss tasting the typical "grilled sardines".

SHOPPING IN JAEN

In the city centre commercial area you can do a bit of shopping to find the perfect purchases, the gift you need,... as well as you can discover shops that offer typical products of Jaen: the extra virgin olive oil, olives, pates, wines, nuts and meat that will not disappoint even the most exigent palates.

TAPAS AND CUISINE

After exploring the sights, visitors will not want to miss out on the chance to try some of Jaen's finest cuisine in many of the modern bars and restaurants, with a vast array of dining venues on offer, you will be spoilt for choice!. There are three main areas: S. Ildefonso, Cathedral and Arco del Consuelo and from Diputación to Constitution squares

For a start if you want to have "tid bits" there is a nourishing repertoire of "tapas", choose as you please. The popular "bocadito" or bread morsel, olive oil and codfish are very popular amongst the olive trade workers; the small radishes, the black pudding and "chorizo" sausages, the capers and big capers, the great variety of seasoned olives for example the cornezuelo ones, these are the first to be tasted, snails in broth, and even the typical "popcorn", the fried potato chips in olive oil made in town. All this deserves a good glass of a beer made in Jaen, such as Cruzcampo or a glass of wine from any of these villages: Lopera, Porcuna, Bailen, Torreperogil or Frailes. There are many bars and restaurants to taste a good tapa, although the most traditional tapas areas are three: one situated around the church of Saint Ildefonso; another one around the Cathedral, at the Arco del Consuelo Street; and the third one between the Posito and the Constitution Squares.

Ruta de la Tapa takes place every year in the city, where many bars offer their best and most tradicional tapas.

Nuestro aceite de oliva virgen extra está producido de las variedades, recogidas a mano, de aceituna picual.
Sólo los métodos más naturales son usados para clarificar y filtrar el aceite de oliva antes de envasarlo.
Este proceso preserva los sabores naturales y la bondad nutricional de la aceituna.
Del árbol a su mesa de la forma más natural y tradicional.

La Cooperativa Virgen de la Capilla de Jaén, envasa la producción propia de sus olivares al sur de la capital, en el entorno del Puente de la Sierra, con zonas de olivar de campiña y zonas de sierra, seleccionando entre sus excelentes aceites, el mejor Virgen Extra.
Nuestra cooperativa cuenta con unas instalaciones acordes con la definición de los controles del proceso que hacen que la calidad quede garantizada desde la molienda hasta la distribución, pasando por el almacenamiento y envasado del producto final:
Nuestro aceite de Oliva Virgen Extra.
